

Computing and Information Sciences. Students graduating with a Business/Computer Information Systems major may need to complete more than 120 credits in order to complete their degree.