

Policies:

Students without previous programming experience must take CS170. Otherwise consent of the instructor will be needed in order to take CS180.

Students graduating with a Computer Information Systems major may need to complete more than 120 credits in order to complete their degree.

Due to the interactive nature of the Computing and Information Sciences curriculum, all students in the major degree programs are required to use a laptop computer throughout the duration of the program. To obtain specific information about the laptop computer configuration, please contact the Chair of the Department.

A student must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.5 or higher in the three courses CS 180, CS 270 and CS 220, or written consent of the department before he/she may declare a major in Computer Information Systems.

2.5 GPA or higher in all computer science courses in order to earn a major in Computer Information Systems.

Three or more computer science courses in the majors at or above the 300 level must be taken in the Department of Computing and Information Sciences at Edgewood College.

Courses in computer science taken more than five years ago may not be accepted toward the majors in Computer Information Systems. Such courses are accepted at the discretion of the department.

Any course requirement other than the minimum residency requirement and all 400-level courses may be satisfied through examination or Credit for Prior Learning.

Courses in the department may not be taken Pass/Fail.

Courses in the Department of Computing and Information Sciences may not be audited.
